HIGH-VALUE PROFESSIONAL KIT

Your Value Is in What You Solve

Families don't pay for hours. They pay for peace of mind.

OLD WAY

"I'm the person who stays with Mom during the day."

NEW WAY

"I'm the professional who keeps your mom strong, steady and safe from falls."

- Name the problem you prevent: falls.
- Show the routine you use every day.
- Prove it with results on paper.

Talking to the Family

How to introduce the new routine and a higher rate, without awkwardness.

1 START WITH CARE

I've been noticing your mom needs more help standing up. I want to keep her strong and safe.

2 PRESENT THE ROUTINE

I've added a daily 10-minute fall-prevention routine to her care.

3 SHOW RESULTS

Here's her progress sheet. Look how much steadier she is after 4 weeks.

4 TALK ABOUT THE RATE

Because I'm now providing this specialized care, my rate will be $____ per hour starting next month.

TIP: Talk about the rate AFTER showing results, never before.

Handling "That's Too Much"

Calm, confident answers to common objections.

1

We can't afford more.

I understand. A single fall can cost thousands and months of recovery. This routine is how I help prevent that.

2

Why should we pay more now?

Because your mother now gets specialized fall-prevention care every day, not just company.

3

Let me think about it.

Of course. Let's look at her progress again in two weeks and decide together.

TIP: Stay calm, smile and never apologize for your value.

Standing Out at Your Facility

How to make your bosses notice your results.

- Run the routine with your residents every day.
- Fill out a progress sheet for each resident.
- Share a short monthly summary with your supervisor.
- Mention fewer falls and more independence in team meetings.
- Ask for feedback and new responsibilities.

Winning New Clients

Present yourself as the caregiver who keeps seniors on their feet.

YOUR 30-SECOND INTRODUCTION

Hi, I'm ____.
I'm a caregiver specialized in fall prevention. I use a daily routine that keeps seniors stronger, steadier and more independent at home.

WHERE TO FIND CLIENTS

- Ask happy families for referrals
- Care.com and local caregiver groups
- Churches and senior centers
- Doctors' and physical therapists' offices

TIP: Bring a sample progress sheet to every first meeting.
